NO VENGEANCE
IN AMERICA'S
PEACE POLICYVANDENBERG URGES
UNITY OF ALLIED
WAR PARTNERS

BY ALEX H. INGLETON

Washington, May 21 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) declared today that America has developed a bi-partisan foreign policy which bars "appeasement" and calls for a "peace for keeps," based on justice to all nations.

The development of such a policy was the chief accomplishment at the Paris council of foreign ministers, the senate was told by Vandenberg, who accompanied Secretary of State Byrnes to the council meeting.

The Michigan legislator said that Byrnes, Senator Connally (D-Tex) and he worked as a "constant unit" in behalf of a program which calls for the liquidation of the "closed corporation of big powers" in order that all Allied war partners shall join in drafting a peace without vengeance.

All To Get Voice

Vandenberg, chairman of the Republican senatorial conference, spoke only 15 hours after Byrnes, in a report to the nation, offered Russia plainly-worded choice between agreeing to an European peace conference this summer, or having the United States ask the United Nations to act on peace settlements.

The Michigan lawmakers' words strengthened, too, mounting speculation that the United States may press soon within U. N. Councils for swift action by the big powers of their controversial power to veto decisions of the international organization.

The America policy worked out in Paris, Vandenberg said, was one which invites all of our partners in the war—instead of a closed corporation of big powers—to have a proper voice in the making of the treaties and the writing of the peace which resulted from the common victories which we all helped win.

"It is a policy which wants a people's peace."

In sharp contrast to his enthusiasm over the accord within the American delegation, Vandenberg—as Byrnes did Monday night—acknowledged frankly that the council itself "did not achieve agreement upon several key questions upon which the solution of our major problems hang."

Although he did not specify the exact differences between the Russian and the United States delegations, he asserted that "eastern communism and western democracy were unable, for the time being, to see eye to eye in most of these considerations."

Appeasement Breeds Wars

In almost the same breath, he served notice that this country would not compromise with principles.

"It is unfortunate," he cried, "that great progress cannot be immediately reported. But delay is preferable in error in such vital matters. We can compromise within the boundaries of a principle. We can no longer compromise principles themselves. That becomes appeasement."

"And appeasement only multiplies the hazard from which it seeks escape. History leaves no room for doubt upon that score. The wrong answers will breed wars for tomorrow."

Of the American foreign policy, he said that it was based in part upon the "moralities" of the Atlantic and San Francisco charters, and equally so upon the "practical necessities required for Europe's rehabilitation."

Tersely, he outlined its terms. He said it:

1. Seeks to end the present, inconclusive armistice regimes which are "postponing peace beyond all limits of reason and of safety;

2. Demands action in concluding treaties with Austria as well as Italy, Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Finland;

3. Calls for a unified Germany. "Where the problems must be considered as a whole rather than in four air-tight compartments;

4. Guarantees maximum protection against resurgent Axis aggressors.

First Ore Carrier
Due Here Saturday

Three trains of iron ore from the Menominee range are scheduled to arrive tonight at the North Western ore docks in Escanaba, and the first ore carrier of the season is expected to load here on Saturday in one of the latest openings of the ore shipping seasons in history.

L. A. McMillan, dock superintendent for the North Western, yesterday said that ore from the Menominee range is expected to continue coming following the settlement of the 100-day strike in the mines. Nothing is expected immediately from the Marquette range, where the strike continues.

The ore docks at Escanaba, idle so far this season, will start operating Friday. The three trains of ore scheduled to arrive tonight will bring about 300 carloads of ore—sufficient to fill the holds of about two ore carriers.

First scheduled boat of the season is the C. C. Conway of the

M. A. Hanna line, which will arrive here on Saturday. The hour of arrival has not yet been determined.

On Sunday, May 26, the Donnacona of a Canadian line is scheduled to dock at Escanaba. Two other boats, both of the Hanna line, are scheduled so far. They are the A. E. Hookin which is expected to arrive here on Monday, and the E. W. Mudge, due on Tuesday.

The steamer A. M. Beyers of the Reiss line, which unloaded coal here several weeks ago and has been at dock since waiting for a cargo of ore, is so far unscheduled on loadings, McMillan said. The Beyers is docked here with a skeleton crew for the time being.

MORE WALKOUTS END

Duluth, Minn., May 21 (AP)—Settlements affecting nearly 4,000 employees of four Lake Superior district iron mining companies were announced tonight at the office of Henry A. Burkhammer, Duluth, district director of the CIO-United Steelworkers Union.

The agreements give hourly wage increases of 18½ cents to the miners of all firms, union officials said.

Mining companies involved in the settlements are:

Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., with 3,000 employees in northern Minnesota and Upper Michigan.

Butler Bros., with 5,000 workers at Cooley Mine.

North Range Mining Co., with 300 in Upper Michigan.

Pittsburgh Coke and Iron Co., with 125 employees at Iron River, Mich.

Settlements of the four disputes brings to more than 19,300 the number of miners and steel workers in the district who are covered by new contracts negotiated since the walkout Feb. 8 of approximately 20,000 workmen, union leaders report.

About 800 mine workers still remained on strike tonight.

DETROIT BREAD
SUPPLY SHORTLines Wait For Stores
To Open; Meat Also Hard To Get

Detroit, May 21 (AP)—Detroiters soon will ask for bread in the same awed, hopeful tones that they seek butter and bacon.

This was the consensus today of large bakeries.

They attributed a sudden, short bread supply to an exhaustion of normal reserves and use of the last odd lots of flour on the market.

The supply will be even more sharply decreased with the opening of thousands of Lower Michigan resorts served by Detroit bakeries.

"Even now there are bread lines waiting for our stores to open," said a large chain store grocery (Kroger) spokesman. "In 10 or 15 minutes every loaf is gone."

Smaller merchants reported reduced supplies, some receiving only five loaves of bread a day from each large bakery.

Meatline, Detroiters also were contending with a severe meat shortage.

Lawrence L. Farrell, Michigan OPA director, said the meat shortage can be traced to the consumers themselves who are demanding more meat than was available to them in 1939.

He said that the meat industry expects to make available 22,000,000 pounds of meat to the Detroit consumers this year, 30 per cent more than was consumed in 1939.

In that year the demand was 100 to 140 pounds a person, he said. The present demand is 175 to 190 pounds a person.

The meat shortage has made heavy inroads on the city's poultry supply, causing dealers to predict that there soon will be a shortage in this commodity, too.

Washington Docked
$3,908 For Being
Late At His Desk

Richmond, Va., May 21 (AP)—President George Washington showed up a couple of months late at his desk, so the treasury docked his salary $3,908.

This came to light when the George Washington Home Restoration, Inc., sought to get the money to start off a national fund drive. The treasury informed the organization that history showed Washington did not take office until almost two months after he was supposed to, because of difficulty in organizing the government, therefore the money was not rightfully owing.

ARMY CHECKS

AND 4 OTHERS
MEET DEATH

New York, May 22 (AP)—An Army investigating board strove today to determine the cause of a Monday night plane crash in which a Michigan army pilot and his four companions died as the craft smashed against the 58th story of a Manhattan skyscraper.

Maj. Mansel R. Campbell, 27, overseas veteran and holder of numerous military decorations, was listed by Army officials as the pilot of the ill-fated craft.

A former resident of Pontiac, Mich., his wife and six-year-old son reside in Barryton, while his mother, Mrs. Isabelle Campbell, resides in Brimley.

Native Of Soo
Campbell, formerly employed at the Pontiac Division of General Motors Corporation, entered the air force in 1943 and received final training at Stockton Field, Calif. He was a private pilot with 150 hours' flying time before he entered military service.

Campbell went overseas in June 1943 and won the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with 11 oak leaf clusters and a Presidential Unit Citation. He was a native of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

In addition to his mother, wife and son, Maj. Campbell is survived by a brother and four sisters, John Earl Campbell, Mrs. Edna Moore, Mrs. Carolyn Collier and Mrs. Myrtle Anders, all of Pontiac and Mrs. Bertha Albrecht of Brimley.

Campbell's widow, Mona, also an aviation enthusiast has made several parachute jumps.

But even as plans went on for the funerals of Maj. Campbell and his colleagues, military and civil authorities tried desperately to determine what sent the big Army plane crashing into the Bank of Manhattan Company tower.

Safety Measures Studied

Army authorities, recalling last year when a B-25 bomber rammed into the Empire State building killing 14 persons, planned new safety measures to avoid a repetition of the incident.

Civilian officials joined in the probe and reliable sources forecast renewed pressure for federal regulations forbidding aircraft to fly over metropolitan, skyscraper-studded areas.

Federal agencies were urged then to adopt a ruling directing all aircraft to avoid congested sections of the city, bristling with 36 scattered spires rising from 504 to 1,250 feet into skies frequently fogged.

Civil aeronautics authority offices in New York City said tonight that the recommendations were understood to be under scrutiny in Washington but that thus far no changes had been made in long-standing rules which simply require aircraft to maintain an altitude of at least 1,000 feet over all cities.

Following the crash into Empire State building last July Army authorities instructed pilots of all military aircraft to remain above 2,500 feet in the New York City area.

Soupy fog shrouded the tips of towering office buildings in the area when both crashes occurred—a condition prevalent more than

Vilshofen, Germany, May 21 (AP)—Four thousand hand-picked U. S. constabulary troops were armed aboard 372 vessels in the Danube River in a surprise dawn raid today, seized a huge bag of guns and contraband and apparently smashed a smuggling ring headed by remnants of the Hungarian navy.

The boats, mostly Hungarian, were suspected of smuggling German S. S. fugitives out of Germany and trading in black market supplies.

Cases of machineguns, numerous light arms, radio sets, and quantities of U. S. army food, clothing, and other materials were seized. Boats containing them were impounded.

Several hundred members of the once-enemy Hungarian navy were believed to be aboard Hungarian naval craft among the river boats.

Russian Soldiers
All Gone Home;
Iran To Tell U. N.

BY MAX HARRELSON

New York, May 21 (AP)—Iranian Ambassador Hussein Ala received instructions from his government tonight to tell the United Nations Security Council that all Russian troops had been out of Iran since May 6 and council delegates thereupon hurriedly reconsidered their positions on the controversial case.

Ala confirmed receipt of the instructions shortly after the delegates learned through news dispatches from Tehran that the Iranian government had announced the completion of Russian withdrawals.

He immediately started drafting a new report for submission to U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie. Meanwhile, he declined to disclose the text of the new instructions. He said, however, that they dealt exclusively with the question of troop evacuation and made no mention of alleged Soviet interference in Azerbaijan province.

The news took the delegates completely by surprise as they prepared to take up the case at 11 a. m. (EDT) tomorrow and, as a result, they were unable to say immediately what effect the new Iranian declaration would have on the council's action.

The spokesman for one delegation said, however, that an unequivocal statement by the Iranian government that all Soviet forces had left the country might open the way for at least part of the case to be dropped. The other part, dealing with Soviet interference in the internal affairs of Iran, might also be dropped if the statement indicated definitely that such interference no longer existed, he said.

FRANCO REGIME

War But Agents Preach
Nazi Principles

BY FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

New York, May 21 (AP)—Spain apparently is not able to wage modern war but Franco agents still are preaching Axis principles in the new world, the state department said in a lengthy report made public tonight by the United Nations Security Council sub-committee investigating the Madrid regime.

Furthermore, the state department said that the United States has, except for one unconfirmed report that one uranium mine may be in production, "no evidence confirming rumored activities in Spain relating to the production of atomic energy."

The sub-committee released the report submitted to it by the United States delegation Saturday. It also announced that Argentina had informed the sub-committee that Argentina does not have "any relevant documentary or other information as to the regime of Generalissimo Franco being a menace to the world's security."

The United States said that the present strength of the Spanish armed forces is currently estimated at slightly more than 600,000, with some 375,000 in the army.

BIGGER RAISE
RAILWAY PAYUNION CHIEFS ARE HOPEFUL, WORK ON COMPROMISE

Washington, May 21 (AP)—Dr. John R. Steelman, White House conciliator striving to get a settlement of the railroad wage dispute before the truce expires Thursday, said tonight the "situation doesn't look too good."

Earlier, he disclosed that he was trying to put through a wage compromise. Any compromise of this nature would mean a bigger increase than an official fact-finding board has recommended.

Before going home to bed to make up some of his lost sleep, Steelman told a reporter that "perhaps a little progress was made" in today's talks but "not much."

No Further Extension

The impression prevailed that there was little administration hope for an extension of the truce under which the Brotherhoods postponed the strike of Trainmen and Engineers, originally scheduled for Saturday, the day after President Truman signed an executive order seizing the carriers.

In persuading the union leaders to postpone the strike, the president said he was confident progress could be made in further negotiations.

The railroads have agreed to pay an increase recommended by the fact-finding board, but the Brotherhoods are demanding a higher figure.

The fact-finding board's recommendation, applicable to all the railroad workers, was for an increase of 16 cents an hour or $1.28 a day.

The Engineers and Trainmen Brotherhoods seek a minimum raise of $3.44 a day for lower paid employees which amounts to 18 cents an hour and a general increase of 18 per cent, which the carriers estimate will average about 20 cents an hour.

No Results Yet

A. F. Whitney, president of the Trainmen, and Alvanley Johnston, chief of the Engineers, issued a statement after a conference with Steelman saying that "we hope we are making progress toward a settlement."

Charles G. Ross, presidential secretary, told a newsmen in response to a query that Steelman had informed him there were "no conclusive results" thus far.

Senator Barkley (D-Ky.) reported after a regular conference of congressional leaders with President Truman that the situation was in "status quo" but he added "everything is hopeful."

The carriers and Brotherhoods, however, appeared less optimistic in their comments today on the trend of the negotiations being conducted separately with the two sides by Steelman.

Edward J. Flynn, Bronx Democratic leader and former attorney for the railroad Brotherhoods, came into the picture. He saw President Truman at the White House at noon and then visited twice at the hotel suite of President A. F. Whitney of the Trainmen's Brotherhood and Alvanley Johnston of the Locomotive Engineers.

He was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and of the Order of Elks.

Boss Crump Gets Death Threat And
Demand For $50,000

Memphis, Tenn., May 21 (AP)—E. H. Crump, leader of the strong Shelby County Democratic political party, said today he had received a letter threatening to kill him or his wife unless he paid $50,000 "at a certain date."

Crump said the letter, half in script and half in printing, was received last Saturday.

He asserted it was signed "Revised Capone, Inc."

The political leader said the letter was postmarked from Desoto station here and that four cents postage was due on it.

"I am almost certain I know who wrote the letter," Crump said.

Don Hostetter, agent in charge of the FBI office here, and Sheriff Oliver Perry declined to comment on the case.

Crump has been a political power in Tennessee for more than a score of years. His support has been worth a sizeable 40,000 to 50,000 votes in Shelby county, enough to make and unmake governors and senators.

For years he has been a political ally of the veteran Senator Kenneth D. McKellar (D-Tenn.), president pro tem of the Senate.

Dickers Begun
With Lewis On Wage Increase

By Harold W. Ward

Washington, May 21. (AP)—The government seized the soft coal mines today but failed to get any immediate assurances from John L. Lewis that the miners will continue at work when the strike "truce" expires Saturday.

Secretary of the Interior Krug, who takes charge of the mines under the seizure order effective after midnight tonight, told a news conference that Lewis took the position that the question of continuing work was one for the individual miners.

Making No Promises
Krug said that "We asked his support" in keeping the mines operating and Lewis took the request "under consideration." A second conference with Lewis will be held tomorrow morning but Krug said Lewis made "no promises, and we requested none."

Krug also conferred with representatives of the operators. He told reporters afterwards that he will attempt to work out the principles of a new bituminous coal contract during the government operation.

After this has been done, he explained, the operators will be called in "for discussions."

He said it might become necessary for the government to work out details of a complete contract—including disposition of Lewis' controversial demand for a health and welfare fund for the miners based on a seven per cent payroll charge against production.

He said that whatever contract eventually is worked out must comply with the government's wage-price policy.

Striking Illegal
Lewis took the position, Krug reported, that under the Smith-Connally War Disputes Act the union "has no alternative other than to stay out of the affairs of the mine workers" after government seizure.

The act makes it illegal to instigate a strike in any plant or other property controlled by the government.

The "truce" order issued by Lewis when the mines were still under private operation, contemplated, that the miners would resume their strike automatically after Saturday if no settlement had been reached by then.

The president's seizure order, effective at one minute after midnight, EST, tonight, declared that coal is "indispensable for the continued operation of the national economy" during the transition from war to peace.

Although Charles G. Ross, presidential secretary, said that Krug's selection was "pronounced acceptable" to both the coal miners and operators, whether the miners would work under federal management was not immediately determined.

Sides Sounded Out
Lewis, who received the news of the presidential order from reporters in a barber shop, said: "I have no comment of any character."

The United Mine Workers' chief declined to say whether he has called the UMW's 250-man policy committee to pass on the question of working for the government in the continued absence of a contract.

Ross said that "both sides were sounded out" before the seizure order was issued. He would not say that the president expected the miners to work under federal operation, but it was learned that Lewis told Mr. Truman last Sunday.

Contracts Approved For State Building To Cost $3,500,000

Lansing, May 21. (P)—The state administrative board today approved contracts for four buildings at state institutions, which will cost approximately $3,500,000 to complete.

Contracts on a "fixed sum plus limited cost basis," were awarded for construction of: An arts and crafts building at Central State Teachers' College at Mt. Pleasant to Henry C. Webber of Bay City, with the fixed sum set at $43,700; adult education building at Caro state hospital to Faulkner Construction Company of Detroit, with fixed sum set at $55,000; laundry at Kalamazoo state hospital to Miller-Davis Company of Kalamazoo, $40,000; women's and men's infirmary building, Ypsilanti state hospital, to Walbridge - Aldinger Company of Detroit, $128,000.

Cry Of Skunk Heard In Senate Debates Over Labor Curbing

Washington, May 21. (P)—The cry of "skunk" was heard today in debate between two Senate Democrats over proposed labor-curbing legislation after two-party agreement on foreign policy had been reported by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.).

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) retorted hotly when Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said in a Senate speech that he believed it possible Byrd had advised coal operators to hold off settlement of their contract dispute with the United Mine Workers pending Senate action on the labor measure.

The Virginian said that he had conferred with coal operators who were his constituents. After trying to pin Pepper down as to whether he actually was accusing Byrd of advising the operators to stall, Byrd said:

"I am reminded that when I first became a member of the Senate, my distinguished colleague the senior senator from Virginia (Carter Glass) said to me that it never paid to get into a contest with a skunk."

Story Of S. S. Murders At Malmedy Related By 4 Yank Survivors

BY TOM REEDY

Dachau, May 21. (P)—Four American soldiers, giving graphic eyewitness accounts of the massacre of 71 American prisoners at Malmedy, said today that methodical S. S. troops directed by laughing officers moved down the unarmed men with machineguns and then used pistols on survivors.

One of the witnesses, Lt. Virgil P. Lary Jr., of Winchester, Ky., climaxed his story of butchery by stepping from the witness stand, scanning the faces of the 74 Nazi defendants facing the military tribunal, and dramatically identifying George Fleps, 23, member of the First Waffen S. S. Panzer regiment, as the man whose two pistol shots touched off the slaughter Dec. 17, 1944.

The prosecution charges the Nazis murdered nearly 800 American war prisoners during the 1944-45 Nazi winter offensive into the Ardennes.

The four American survivors testified that about 150 U. S. troops were caught in a severe German crossfire and surrendered. They were marched, hands clasped behind their heads, into a snow-covered field, and were moved down by machinegun fire, they declared.

All four stared fixedly at the court of six colonels and a general as they testified. None glanced at Gen. Sepp Dietrich and his 73 S. S. troops charged with the deliberate killing of war prisoners. All four wore uniforms with discharge insignia and each had rows of ribbons clustered about purple hearts.

To their grim report the prosecution added the statistics of death at Malmedy, listing 120 victims. Only 71 bodies were recovered, the prosecution said.

Besides Lary, the witnesses were Kenneth F. Ahrens, Erie, Pa., a former sergeant; Kenneth E. Kingston, Allentown, Pa., and Carl R. Daub, Colebrook, Pa., both former corporals.

Lary, coldly and meticulously, told the court how his 285th field artillery observation battalion men were herded into the field with the other prisoners.

"Two vehicles drove up and parked on our flank, and I saw a German place a machinegun over the side of one," he said. "Then another vehicle drove up and stopped between the other two. I saw a man take his pistol and aim in the direction of our group."

Lary dropped into the snow when the shots were fired. Machineguns clattered for about three minutes, and he was struck in the left leg, he said.

Lary escaped after hours of lying still on the field, made his way to a Belgian village and was helped to American lines by two girls.

Kingston, his voice rising, told how a German soldier stood by him and fired two pistol shots into his helmet. The shots missed Kingston's skull.

"German officers were running around and laughing, and I didn't know what was going on," he said. He escaped after lying in deathlike stillness for three hours.

Ahrens said he thought he was on that field for ages. He had been hit in the back. His face was buried in mud and he could not see the Germans come on the field. He said he heard them coming and heard the groans of his buddies and the shots and then stillness.

Two more survivors will testify tomorrow.

Mother Walks Out Of Hospital, Leaves 9-Day Baby Behind

Chicago, May 21. (P)—Hyde Park police today began a search for 20-year-old Marjorie Ashe, after being notified by her husband, James, that she had walked out of Illinois Central hospital leaving their nine-day-old son and a note behind.

Police said the note read, in part: "I failed you so terribly, my darling. * * * I couldn't bear to think of taking him home and showing him to everyone. * * * Oh, if God had only made him cute."

Ashe, 26, an insurance company clerk, said the note had been found pinned on his wife's bed in the hospital. He told police she had been scheduled to go home today. They had been married 14 months. The baby was born on Mother's Day.

Mrs. Ashe was described by police as 5 feet 4 inches, attractive, brown-haired and brown-eyed. Her husband said she may have gone to visit a sister in California. He told police he thought the baby "looks swell" and that he intended to keep it.

CHICK PRODUCTION UP

Lansing, May 21. (P)—A total of 17,530,000 chicks were hatched in Michigan's commercial hatcheries between January 1 and May 1, the federal-state crop reporting service said today. Production so far is approximately four per cent higher than for the same period in 1945.

Scientists Trace Influenza Aches

Detroit, May 21. (P)—The aches and pains that accompany influenza may be due to a virus-produced poison capable of damaging organs of the body, two University of Pennsylvania researchers told the American Society of Bacteriologists tonight.

Drs. Werner and Gertrude Henle, in a round table discussion of influenza at the society's 46th general meeting, said there are indications that "the influenza virus produces a toxin which produces damage to the spleen, liver and parts of the brain."

An indication of the size of a virus was given by Dr. W. M. Stanley of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research at Princeton, N. J., who found that 250,000 virus particles placed side by side will equal one inch.

Dr. Stanley, who first purified a virus, described the influenza virus as "rather complex, chemically speaking," and said it consists of "protein, nucleic acids, fats and starch-like material."

Michigan Farmers Ship Famine Wheat

Lansing, May 21. (P)—Michigan farms have sent 807,200 bushels of stored grain to the market in the drive for wheat to relieve foreign famine, Maurice A. Doan, state AAA chairman, said today.

Farmers will receive a bonus price for their wheat up to May 25, Doan said. Lenawee had the largest county total with 81,900 bushels brought to elevators. Kent county had 47,200 bushels.

RECRUIT BEAN PICKERS HERE

Ask School Children To Aid In Harvesting Local Bean Crop

School children of Escanaba again are being recruited, as they were during the war, to assist in harvesting Delta county's bean crop.

"If it had not been for the young people of Escanaba our bean picking would not have been picked the last two years," said E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent. "Again this summer I know we cannot expect to harvest without their help, the beans that will be planted."

To organize the bean picking teams this year Wenner is calling meetings of young people by groups. These meetings are all to be held in the city hall according to the following schedule:

Boys and girls from the Washington and Webster schools—4 p. m. Thursday, May 3.

From the Jefferson and Barr schools—4 p. m. Friday, May 24.

From the Franklin, St. Ann and St. Joseph's schools—4 p. m. Monday, May 27.

From the Junior high school—4 p. m. Tuesday, May 28.

The groups are being organized by schools, and all youngsters from those schools are invited to attend the meeting set for their school. Bradford Loveland will again have charge of the labor program.

The children will be presented with parents consent blanks which must be filled out and signed by the parents before their child will be permitted to work. A uniform schedule of pay will be worked out. Some children have already received the parents consent blanks.

QUERIES FROM VETS

This series of questions and answers comes from the local Veterans Administration, located in the postoffice building. Veterans may obtain detailed information regarding the problems touched upon here or any other problems relating to veterans' affairs from William Butler or Emil Larson at the administration office.

Q. I have filed claim for pension due to World War II injury and am receiving benefits. Since my discharge, my right leg has been amputated due to my service connected disability. Now that I am in the hospital, how can I secure an increase in pension?

A. A report of any notable change in your condition will be routinely prepared and will be given consideration to determine whether you are entitled to increased benefits. A disability which is proximately due to or the result of a properly service connected disease or injury is pensionable or compensable.

Q. Is a wife entitled to appointment after an interlocutory decree has been granted?

A. Yes, and until the decree becomes final.

Q. Why is an apportionment made to a child after the mother remarries and has custody of the child?

A. The right of a child to share an apportioned award even after the mother remarries is distinct and separate from the mother's right and continues after the remarriage of the mother.

Q. Must lay and medical evidence to reopen a claim be notarized?

A. Yes.

A High Class Fair

THE Upper Peninsula State Fair, re-instituted in Escanaba this year after a lapse of five years due to the war, will be one of the finest expositions ever held in the north, both from educational and entertainment standpoints.

In planning the 1946 Upper Peninsula State Fair, the board of managers has not lost sight of the primary purpose of the exposition, the development of agriculture. Emphasis will again be made upon dairying and 4-H club activities. The national 4-H club exhibit, prepared by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, will be presented at the state fair here this year.

Approval by the state budget bureau of funds for the construction of a model milking house is anticipated. The model milking house is designed to demonstrate to dairy farmers the most modern facilities for efficient, sanitary handling of milk. If the model milking house materializes, which seems probable now, it should prove to be one of the most interesting exhibits at the state fair.

From an entertainment standpoint, the attractions at the state fair this summer will be among the best ever booked. A top quality grandstand stage show will be supplemented by various acts of international fame.

All in all, the 1946 Upper Peninsula State Fair is shaping up as an event to which residents of not only Escanaba, the host city, but the entire Upper Peninsula can look forward with anticipated pleasure.

HE KEEPS SMILING
(Christian Science Monitor)

Unique among entertainers is Bill ("Bojangles") Robinson. After 60 years before the public he can have a Broadway engagement, it can truly be said, whenever he chooses. His smile has captivated millions ever since the days in Washington when he displayed his self-taught steps on the Capital's sidewalks to appreciative onlookers. The pennies they tossed the boy of eight helped him to support himself, and so adept did he become that he decided those nimble feet could pay his keep, and perhaps more.

And so it proved, for he went on to an ever-widening public in vaudeville, night clubs, and traveling shows that were open to Negro performers. Then came the prestige of appearances as a "single" entertainer, and recognition as one of the world's greatest tap dancers.

He taught Shirley Temple the cute steps she did with him in films as a child, coached Fred Stone and his daughter, Dorothy, in the brilliant star dance (Bill's invention) they did in one of their most successful musical comedies. Many others went to him for instruction before his studio and stage engagements. Today he still does his stair dance, with its ingenious orchestration of stepping, nimble variations, and piquant hesitations, that enthusiastic admirers have compared to the form of a Bach fugue visualized.

Bill doesn't smoke or drink. His favorite nourishment is ice cream—two or three quarts a day. His many benefactions include a series of four street-traffic lights in his home town, Richmond, Virginia, which he has been officially informed, have been the means of insuring the safety of thousands of youngsters. That, he will tell you, is one of the reasons he smiles when he dances.

Home gardening, though well worth while, is a lot of trouble after all, says an expert. Yeah—after all the neighbors' dogs and chickens.

WHAT ABOUT "AIN'T"?

(Scrapbook Item)
Q. I am in despair over my failure to stamp out "ain't" among my English students. Will you please Colby-ize the word? Perhaps they'll take your word for it.—Mrs. T. M.

Answer: Letters like yours, Mrs. T. M., come in almost every mail. Let's see what we can do about the pesky and persistent word "ain't."

First of all, "ain't" is a corruption of the obsolete contraction "a'n't" for "am not." "A'n't" was pronounced "ahnt" or "ant." For some reason now unknown, "a'n't" disappeared, having been superseded by the form "ain't," a nonsensical contraction, since there is no such phrase as "ai not."

"Ain't" for "am not" is bad enough in any event—the dictionaries stigmatize it as "dialectal" or "illiterate." But "ain't" approaches the barbarous when it is used for "are not," "is not," "has not," and "have not" as: "I ain't going; he ain't going; you ain't going; he ain't gone; they ain't gone."

"Ain't," in careless speech, has become a monstrous word-of-all-work that is as meaningless as it is erroneous.

Equally erroneous, and quite as hard to stamp out, is the contraction "aren't" when used with the pronouns I, he, she, it.

"Aren't I?" is a British colloquialism in-

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—Sinister is a word to be used sparingly. Webster defines it to mean evil, injurious, disastrous, corrupt.

Yet that word seems to apply to the pattern of strikes taking shape in this country today. Or, perhaps more accurately, it applies to the political motivation which appears to be back of some phases of this spreading cancer.

A strike is scheduled for June 15. That is the strike of the seven CIO maritime unions. Even though they are far from controlling the waterfronts on the east and west coasts, since there is active AFL competition, they can go a long way toward shutting down the shipping out of United States ports.

What happens, then, to the relief ships carrying food to a hungry world? I asked that question of one of the leading officers of the national maritime union. He replied that a special committee has been set up to deal with just that question. Co-chairmen of that committee are Harry Bridges of the CIO Longshoremen's union and Joseph Curran of the NMU.

—HUNGRY THREAT GRAVE—

I was told that nothing had been worked out yet. The committee will take the matter up with UNRRA. They will insist on assurances from UNRRA that ships with UNRRA relief food contain nothing else but relief.

The fact is, however, that UNRRA is shipping only a fraction of the food leaving American ports. That is the fraction going to countries which cannot pay. Most shipments are going to countries that need the food desperately and have the foreign exchange to pay for it.

Are these ships to be stopped? The answer seems to lie with the maritime unions. If they are stopped, hunger, famine will spread in Europe and Asia.

Now look at the background of the maritime unions. Communist influence is greater there than in any other union in the country. Bridges and Curran are heroes of the Communists' daily worker.

Soviet Russia was asked to join forces with Britain and the United States in helping to meet the famine crisis. In spite of a personal message from President Truman to Stalin, the Russians declined. Does Russia want hunger to spread in the world? Will hunger and chaos further Communist policy? The conduct of the maritime strike may help to answer those questions.

It is an American tragedy that this strike will take place against a background of collusion and corruption in the building of merchant ships during the war. Senator George D. Aiken of Vermont says the charges against the maritime commission and the ship operators add up to "the most shocking story of collusion, corruption and disregard of public interest ever presented against an agency of the United States government."

These facts are so exploitable in terms of public opinion. With the maritime unions representing the extreme political left, John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers represent the extreme political right. Lewis has become the hero of Republican isolationism. Diehard employers see in his tactics the chance to realize their fondest aims.

—PRESTIGE DIMINISHED—

The coal strike has gone a long way toward undermining price control. In so doing, it has irreparably harmed the Truman administration. Mass production unions in steel and automobiles are suffering severe damage which comes on top of the losses resulting from the steel and motor strikes.

While they have different aims, extreme left and extreme right are achieving the same result. That result is to reduce America to impotence at a time when the weight of our prestige and influence is most needed to strike a balance in a despairing world. An avowed Communist in this country has been quoted as saying that the consequence of the United States' effort to "interfere" with Russian foreign expansion will be the reduction of this country to a "third-rate power."

The strikes can be explained as an inevitable result of the fearful economic dislocation of the war. The railroad unions cannot be fitted into any broad political pattern. When their leaders have played politics, it has been almost entirely in the special interests of the railroad unions. They have taken a middle-of-the-road political line.

Yet when all this has been said, the fact remains that if in the interests of international power politics, the aim had been to cripple and impair this country, it could not have been done more effectively. You do not have to look far to see what this means.

Introduced into this country by American writers who fatuously believed that "I am, aren't I?" is viddy, viddy social register. It is always as hard to put down error as it is to elevate truth. "Aren't I?" continues to smirk at us from stories and novels written in "society" English. And writers of radio plays and movie scenarios had as soon be caught in public in their underclothes as to turn out a single opus without a liberal use of "Aren't I?" and "Don't feel badly about it."

This final word to Mrs. T. M.'s English class: Better avoid "ain't," or I'll sick my horrendous old assistant, Dr. Etain Shrdlu, on you. Then you'll wish you had paid attention to teacher.

REUNION AT TIMBERHEAD

Willard "Cowboy" Anderson, who established his nickname in Delta county by wearing a ten-gallon hat and operating a beef cattle ranch near Watson for 13 years, is back in this locality again after spending two years in travel and recreation.

Anderson has a heart ailment but it doesn't show. He looks healthy, yet in the past two years he has spent considerable time in hospitals.

He is determined, however, that his ailment will not keep him from enjoying his favorite sport—hunting. Out in Oregon last December he killed a large bull elk, and just by accident he bagged a mountain lion in the Timberhead Mountains. At least Anderson calls it an accident. It happened this way.

While out west he decided to look up an old friend he had not seen for 38 years. This friend, Don Davison, is a forest ranger in the Timberhead Mountains. When Anderson called on the ranger, he was out, and Anderson told Mrs. Davison he would take a little walk up a mountain trail.

Mrs. Anderson told him there had been a mountain lion around those parts recently and urged him to take Davison's .22 caliber rifle, which Anderson did.

Anderson had walked only a short distance on the trail when the big mountain cat suddenly sprang from hiding and made as if to attack. Quickly raising the light rifle, Anderson fired and killed the mountain lion. Ranchers and rangers had been trying to bag the animal for several years.

TO SETTLE DOWN—Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and their son, Willard Jr., 12, traveled from California to Delta county on their last jump around the country. Despite the contrast between Michigan and California, Anderson was glad to "get back" here.

"From Arizona to South Dakota it was dry, very dry," Anderson reported. "In the Southwest cattlemen were preparing to sell off their herds because of the drought. Altogether conditions look bad for meat production in the West this year."

Michigan's greening countryside, May rains and plenty of water in the surrounding Great Lakes pleased Anderson. He plans, he said, to find a place in Delta county—probably at Stonington—where he and his family can "settle down." They like country life and are not considering a house in town.

COMMENDED—Thomas Arnold of Thompsons near Manistique, who is serving with the U. S. Army's sixth service command at Whitehorse, Canada, has been commended by his superior officers for his assistance in a difficult job in the wilds of the Yukon territory.

Last November a C-47 transport plane carrying 22 persons was forced down on the ice of an inland lake 60 miles from White Horse. No one was injured but one of the plane's motors was damaged.

With bulldozers, tractors and plows—plus a great deal of hard labor in sub-zero weather—Arnold and others opened a road 15 miles long through the wilderness to the lake. Over this road a

Dr. Frank P. Bohn of Newberry, senator from this district in the Michigan state legislature for the past two years and now a candidate for Congress, spent yesterday in conference with a group of Escanaba and Gladstone business and professional men here, preparing plans to combat any effort made by the school board of the city of Detroit to prove unconstitutional the Escanaba plan for distributing a portion of the Michigan state primary school interest fund.

Mr. and Mrs. William Desmond are the parents of a son, who has been named Frederick Elmore.

A new motor was transported for the plane, which took off safely after the repairs were made.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY—Munising readers of the Escanaba Daily Press were pleased a few days ago to read that a Mr. Brantford of that city was listed in the church notices as pastor of Eden Lutheran church. They had known Mr. Brantford as an identifiable church worker, and friends of his telephoned him to congratulate him on his elevation to the ministry.

It was all a case of mistaken identity, however, according to the Daily Press correspondent at Munising. Mr. Brantford submits the church notices and, noting his name on the envelope, the correspondent took it for granted that he was pastor of the church.

The pastor of Eden Lutheran church is the Rev. T. L. Rydbeck of Marquette, who travels to Munising to conduct services. Soon, however, the church is to have a resident pastor—Rev. Herman A. Larson who will come to Munising from St. Hilaire, Minnesota.

G. I.—VETERANS SERVICE

Q. May a wife get hospitalization for maternity care after her husband has been discharged?

A. If pregnancy occurred while her husband was in service in one of the four lower pay grades (up to and including "buck" sergeant), she is entitled to maternity benefits under the Emergency Maternity and Infant care program.

Q. What notice should one file when a veteran with National Service Life Insurance dies?

A. When a veteran dies, beneficiaries should immediately notify the Director of Insurance at the nearest veterans administration office.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Q. When a carriage is in motion, drawn by horses, why is the saying exertion of power in the horses required to stop it, as would be necessary to back it, if it were at rest?

A. Because the force required to destroy motion in one direction is equal to that required to produce as much motion in the opposite direction.

Q. Can iodine stains be removed from white washable materials? Accidentally spilled some on one of my sheets.

A. Fresh iodine stains may be removed by soap and water, or the stain may be moistened with water and placed in the sun or over a warm radiator. Hypo (sodium thiosulphate) is an effective remedy. Make a solution of one tablespoon full of hypo to one pint of water. Apply to the stain, then wash the article. Sponging the stain with ammoniated water (six drops of spirits or ammonia to one-half cup of water) is also often effective.

Q. What was Babe Ruth's complete major league pitching record in games won and lost?

A. His record shows 92 wins and 44 defeats for a percentage of .66 per cent exclusive of World Series games. He also won three World Series games against no defeats.

Q. Where was "Billy the Kid" starring Robert Taylor filmed, the scenes showing rock formations?

A. The rock formations were photographed in Monument Valley, Arizona. Other scenes were filmed in Tucson and Flagstaff, Arizona.

Frankly, a view of the Tahquamenon falls from an airplane may be panoramic, but is a rather remote approach to beauty. You never can tell, however, and air touring may become as popular as the boat trips to the Pictured Rocks, or Joe Beach's river trip to the falls.

As lieutenant governor, Brown has played a major part in the work of the state planning commission and has been the spark-plug of the commission which plans the erection of a new centralized office building.

Although 72 years old, he is credited with keeping younger men in state government jumping to keep abreast of his activities and ideas.

Brown lives on the family homestead farm near Mason and is an avid gardener. He is married and has five children.

ROBERT MOREAU

IN HOLLYWOOD—Robert R. Moreau, son of Mrs. Albert Moreau, 311 South Ninth street, is now appearing as soloist with the "Aleutian Five" orchestra in Hollywood and Los Angeles.

The five members of the band served together during the war, and organized their orchestra when they were stationed at Dutch Harbor, Alaska. They entertained servicemen throughout Alaska and the Aleutians, appeared in USO shows, and made frequent radio broadcasts.

Now, since they have all been discharged, they have been appearing in Los Angeles at the Trocadero club, the Palladium, Larry Potter's Supper Club, and are currently appearing at the Orchid Room. They recently played at a private party given by Lana Turner.

They have also made about 40 transcriptions for Capitol Records, two for Decca, and are making an album for Capitol Records for commercial use. They recently appeared on the broadcast program, "Mail Call" for servicemen overseas.

Moreau, who was in service for four years, was soloist at Fr. Coughlin's church, Shrine of the Little Flower, in Detroit, before he entered the army. He has appeared on numerous programs in Escanaba, and was formerly entertained here as an entertainer.

Educational FM Network Visualized By Dr. Maddy

A radio network in Michigan free of blatant commercials, as well as static and other interference common on ordinary wave lengths, and devoted exclusively to community service and education may be a reality in the state soon.

So said Dr. Joseph Maddy, president of the national music camp at Interlochen and University of Michigan faculty member, at a meeting here last night at the Junior high school.

It is proposed, Dr. Maddy said, that the state finance, at an initial cost of approximately $300,000, four of the high power frequency modulation stations, which would be set up and operated by the state department of public instruction, FM broadcast channels, set aside by the Federal Communications Commission for the use of education institutions, would be used in the network.

Station at Manistique

These four stations, according to the well known educator in the field of music, would provide a source from which smaller community stations would rebroadcast programs to listeners within their broadcast range. The main stations have been tentatively spotted at Ann Arbor, Cadillac, Manistique and Houghton.

They would be intended to provide informative, cultural and entertainment programs without commercial announcements. A continuous schedule of programs would be assembled by combining resources of all of Michigan's universities, colleges and other institutions and by various departments of the state government.

Local stations, independently owned and managed, would broadcast as much of the network program as desired, and also would provide frequent broadcasts of local news, such as announcements, market reports, community campaigns, school activities and sports.

The best of these local programs, Dr. Maddy said, could be fed into the network or rebroadcast by transcription.

State Governing Board
The governing body of the educational network, according to Dr. Maddy, would be a "Michigan Education Radio association," which would include the Governor, the state superintendent of public instruction, a representative appointed by the state board of education, one appointed by the board of regents of the university, one appointed by the state board of agriculture, a representative appointed by the state adult educational advisory committee and a representative of each contemplated operating station.

The bugaboo of state government control of the network, Dr. Maddy said, would be minimized by the size of the last-named group—the representatives of radio stations locally owned by education institutions and operated by them.

Maddy estimated cost of construction of four central stations at $300,000 to $400,000, and the annual operational cost at $40,000 to $50,000, an extremely small percentage of sums allotted for education.

Many Channels Allotted
Originally, Dr. Maddy said, a large number of regular radio channels had been set aside for educational institutions, but had been surrendered to commercial operators by default.

Invention and widespread adoption of FM, he said, makes it possible for educational institutions and communities to get into the radio field, inasmuch as a "generous number" of channels have been allotted by the FCC for that purpose.

A part of his talk concerned the advantages of frequency modulation as contrasted with the present audio-modulation setup—tone fidelity, absence of static and economy.

Maddy said commercial operators will be allotted 80 of 100 FM channels, and 20 have been set aside for educational use. The 20 educational channels would make possible 4,000 stations in the United States, he added.

He also discussed the possibility of the use of facsimile reproduction via FM radio for educational purposes.

"Radio and facsimile," said the Michigan educator, "represent the greatest possibilities for education since the invention of printing."

Carbide Strike At Soo Settled With
Increase In Wages

Sault Ste. Marie — A 48-day strike at the Union Carbide-Michigan Northern Power company plants ended Monday morning with the signing of an agreement by representatives of the company and the UMW Local 12413.

A general hourly wage increase of 17 cents an hour was agreed upon, and it was estimated the average increase would reach about 19 cents per hour as some classifications brought an hourly rate increase as high as 25 cents.

All employees of both companies will receive the 17 cents an hour increase and there will be additional job rate adjustments to reduce job rate inequities that have existed.

The agreement, besides the standard seniority clauses, provides for maintenance of membership and checkoff of dues, and increased vacation allowances up to a full month's vacation for employees of 25 years.

BEER DRINKERS ARE ORGANIZED

50,000 Members Sought
In Upper Peninsula
By BDLA

A. D. Varney, Grand Rapids, state chairman of the Beer Drinkers League of America, arrived in Escanaba this week to promote local membership in his organization which, Varney frankly admitted, is designed to counteract the dry elements in the nation who are pleading for a return to prohibition.

Varney will be in Escanaba for several days and will contact all tavern operators to enlist their aid in enrolling beer patrons in the Beer Drinkers League.

The BDLA now has over a half million members, over half of whom live in Michigan, national headquarters of the league, Varney said. It is planned to enroll 50,000 members in the Upper Peninsula alone.

"The purpose of our league is to educate the beer drinkers to exercise their rights and to assert their opposition to prohibition and all of its evils," Varney said.

The BDLA official declared that drys are now spending millions of dollars to influence legislation against the sale of beer and liquors, and added that the beer drinkers of America must combat the influence of the dry organizations.

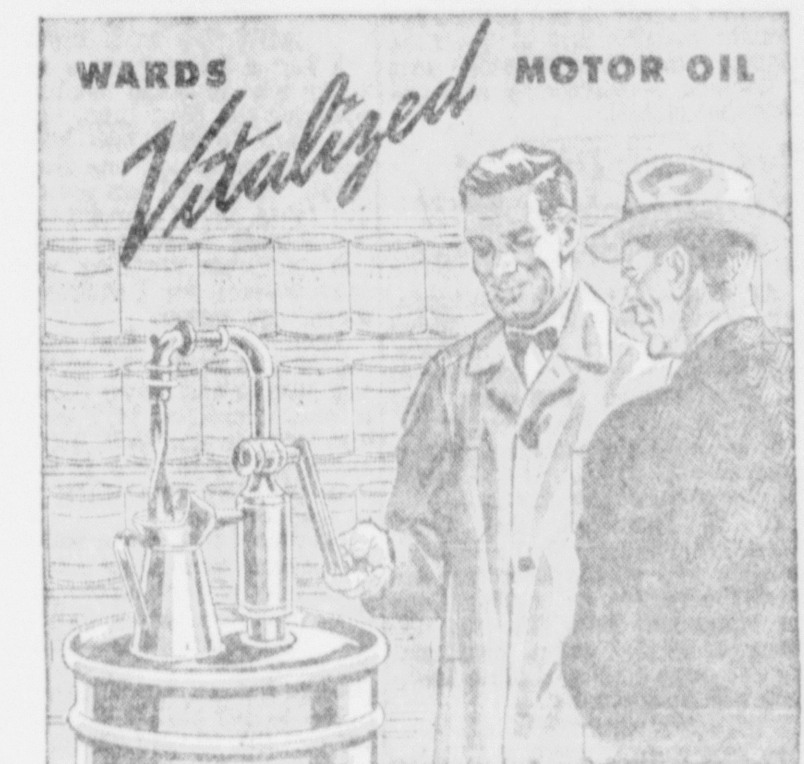

Varney reported that the Beer Drinkers League is pleading for moderation in the drinking of beer and liquor.

Local Clubs Help
In Rehabilitation
Work At Pinecrest

Funds contributed by the Child's Welfare Club of Gladstone and the Woman's Clubs of Escanaba and Menominee are being used in the rehabilitation of tuberculosis patients at Pinecrest sanatorium, Dr. John W. Towey, medical director of the sanatorium, said this week.

A contribution for the same work has also been pledged by the Dickinson County Tuberculosis Association.

The money, raised by these organizations through the annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals, pays for library books, special courses of instruction, textbooks and other equipment vital in the patient's effort to prepare himself for a return to normal, self-supporting living after he leaves the sanatorium, Dr. Towey said.

Part of the money is also used to pay for the services of a full-time rehabilitation worker, Miss Virginia LeClair, who was assigned to Pinecrest recently by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. Miss LeClair, who completed her training for rehabilitation work at Ingham sanatorium in Lansing, has been given responsibility for assisting patients in preparing—through reading, study and limited exercise—for useful and profitable work after they complete their sanatorium treatment.

"Many times tuberculosis patients can not return to their former jobs after they leave the sanatorium," Dr. Towey commented. "For that reason we find it valuable, and often helpful to the patient's recovery, to train him for some other type of work while he is still under treatment. Under such a program, the patient naturally has a brighter outlook for the future, because he is planning to go into some definite type of work for which he is trained and prepared. In this frame of mind, knowing he will not be a burden to himself and his family, the patient often has a better chance for recovery."

Pinecrest's rehabilitation program has been underway since January, Dr. Towey said.

In addition to the funds received from the Dickinson County Tuberculosis Association and from the tuberculosis committees of the Gladstone Child's Welfare Club and the Escanaba and Menominee Woman's Clubs, Pinecrest's rehabilitation work is being supported by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association with money raised from the sale of Christmas seals in these and other communities served by the sanatorium.

The strike at Port Inland will continue.

Officials of the Inland Lime and Stone Company, in a meeting with the bargaining committee of Local No. 377 and with John Luecke, U. S. Department of Labor, held at the company offices Monday, made an offer to end the strike which has been in progress since March 27.

"The company offered a 15 1/2 cent wage increase, retroactive to February 1, 1946. The basic labor wage rate with the increase would be 91 cents per hour. The retroactive feature would have meant roughly $50 back pay to each employee," said A. J. Cuyia, who bargained with representatives of the union.

It was proposed that the contract be signed for a year and one-half with the proviso that it could be reopened six months from the signing, for further wage negotiations.

A special meeting of the union was held Monday evening when the offer was presented and the offer rejected.

FILE EXEMPTIONNecessary Blanks May Be Had At Assessor's
Office

Veterans claiming tax exemption on real estate valued up to $2,000, should file their applications at the assessor's office in the city hall on or before May 31, Alex Robertson, city assessor, advises.

Blanks for filing this exemption, which may be had at the assessor's office, require a sworn statement to the effect that the applicant served in the armed forces of the United States for three months or more; or honorably discharged because of disability; or served in World War I and has a service connected disability; or entered the armed forces since or during 1940 or entered the armed service since 1940 and was honorably discharged less than one year prior to April 1 this year; or applicant may be unmarried widow of a veteran.

The exemption also holds true in the case of a veteran who is still in the armed service.

The applicant must swear that he is owner of the assessed property and that it is occupied by him or his family as a homestead.

The applicants must also state that the value of the property does not exceed the sum of $5,000.

The assessor's office also expects to receive forms to be filled out by veterans seeking refunds from taxes they may have paid in error. This applies to certain real and personal taxes paid by veterans while they were in the service.

These refunds, however, are due only in certain particular cases where the veteran paid taxes on property while still in the service. This applies only to property of less than $7,500 value.

GAME-BIRD AREA IS BURNED OUT

Controlled Fire Tried On 60 acre plot in Cusino Area

Munising—Attempting to maintain and possibly enlarge an opening now used by prairie chickens and sharpshins, the first controlled burning in the Cusino area was undertaken by experimental station employees on May 8. The area burned covered 60 acres in the W 1/2, SW 1/4, Section 4, T47N, R17W (near the Parker camp site, five miles northwest of Melstrand). The area was divided into two plots by a logging road still in use. One plot measured approximately 48 acres and the other about 12 acres. The larger plot was set off by gasoline blow torches about 9 o'clock in the morning and the smaller one about an hour later. The fire was set on the windward side of each plot, and around the inside of the inner fire-break furrows encircling them. These furrows were burned several days before the burning was to take place. The burning took about four hours. Lack of sufficient breeze, a fairly well greened turf of quack grass and a wet sub-surface slowed the burning progress of fire. Thus, except where old, rotten stumps were involved, very few stems of woody species were killed by the fires. The fire did not reach the soil except where it burned the stumps.

The experimental station does not consider the burning a success so far as the objective is concerned. The burning should have taken place a little earlier in the season before copious growth became too green. Those who worked on the burning, however, were pleased with the way the fire was kept under control. At no point did the fire extend beyond its intended break. They were enthusiastic in the possibilities this management practice may hold, and proposed projects of the same kind and for the same purpose for certain areas in their districts. This system of land management is only in its experimental state. While it does hold promise in connection with managing land for prairie chickens and sharpshins, the department of conservation warns against the indiscriminate setting of fires by unauthorized parties. This is deliberate arson, and will be treated as such.

nese people living in and around Tokyo. Miss Paine paid special tribute to one of her Japanese staff whom she called Miss Nightingale, relating several incidents throughout her talk that pointed out how this young teacher and member of the staff were not only doing social work in Japan but spreading Christianity in the land as well.

All of Miss Paine's story covered the period from 1928 when they first thought of establishing a mission in Japan to 1943 when she was sent back to the United States.

She pointed out how graciously the Japanese official people treated her and other "enemy aliens" even though they were citizens of the enemy country, but pointing out that she followed all their rules which did not give them a chance to treat her otherwise.

Illustrating this point she told of how, on the day she was supposed to board the train for going aboard ship, quite a number of the personnel of her mission house, Al-Kel Gahnen (Garden of Love) were at the station to see her off, yet she knew that if she recognized them it would maybe bring them harm and so, although she knew her presence was known, she made not outward sign that she recognized the teachers at all. The teachers of the mission were all Japanese.

Miss Paine said she has received a letter from members of the staff in April of this year and that she had been assured that the mission has not been touched, although the surrounding properties are not standing but have been burned to the ground.

UPHILL BATTLE DECIDED IN 8TH

Last Two Boston Runs Driven In With A Double

BY FRANK KENESSON

Detroit, May 21 (AP)—Earl Johnson, blond southpaw relief hurler, pitched and batted the Boston Red Sox to a 6 to 4 victory here today over the Detroit Tigers, clinching an uphill battle by driving in the last two Boston runs with an eighth inning double.

Johnson, achieving his third victory in relief this season, pitched five innings of hitless ball after the Tigers had profited by sloppy Red Sox play to get away to an early 4-0 lead.

By coming from behind with a 12-hit attack, Boston erased the sting of four early errors and a wild pitch that gave Detroit all its runs in the first two innings.

The triumph, Boston's fifth in six starts against the Tigers, boosted the Red Sox' league lead to six full games over second place New York.

Joe Dobson, Boston starter, lasted just one inning, yielding two runs, and Jim Bagby was victim of the other two unearned tallies in the second.

George Metkovich homered with nobody aboard in the third and the Red Sox scored twice more with four bunched singles in the fifth, driving Virgil (Fire) Trucks to cover.

Johnson doubled off Relief Man Al Benton in the seventh and brought home the tying run on Ted Williams' two-bagger.

Dom Di Maggio singled in the eighth and stole second with a slide that put him out of the game with a leg injury. Hal Wagner was purposely passed and Johnson lashed his second double to right center to win the game.

The Tigers' first two unearned runs scored with unexpected suddenness before Dobson retired a man in the opening inning. Eddie Lake walked and Eddie Mayo lined a single to right. When Metkovich' throw to third went into the Tiger dugout Lake scored and Mayo went all the way to third. Dobson then uncorked a wild pitch to score Mayo. Jim Outlaw was safe at first on third baseman Glenn Russell's wide throw and after Dick Wakefield and Hank Greenberg lifted flys, Pat Mullin singled and George Kell walked to fill the bases. Paul Richards ended it with a lazy fly to right.

One was out in the second when Lake walked again. Mayo singled him to second. Outlaw tapped a double play ball to Bobby Orrer, forcing Mayo, but was safe at first when Johnny Pesky's pivot throw went wide, Lake scoring. Wakefield singled to right and Outlaw went all the way around to score when Metkovich fumbled twice picking up the ball. Greenberg then fanned and Detroit's offense ended right there as the only other Tiger hit was Richards' single off Bagby in the third.

BOMBERS' BIG BATS HELPLESS

New York Outfielder Stumbles, Breaks Right Ankle

Cleveland, May 21 (AP)—Bobby Feller chalked up his sixth victory of the year today and ran his strike out total to 93 in 80 innings by fanning eight New York Yankees in Cleveland's 7-2 conquest of the Yankees.

Feller, who hurled a 1-0 no-hit no-run victory against the Yankees in New York April 30, held New York hitless for the first four and two-third innings to stretch his skin over the Yankees to 13 and two-third hitless innings.

Roy Weatherly Yankee outfielder, who was recently discharged from the armed forces, suffered a possible fracture of his right ankle in the eighth inning when he stumbled and twisted his right leg going into second. Bunting for Pitcher Bill Wright in the eighth, Weatherly singled to right and sped on to second when Hank Edwards fumbled the ball in right field. He was removed to a hospital for X-ray examinations and in all probability won't be with the Yankees when they fly to Detroit tonight.

Marathon Champion Returns To Greece, Spurns Pro Offers

New York, May 21 (AP)—Stylanos Kyriakides, 36-year-old runner who won the Boston marathon April 19, left by plane today for Athens and his job as a bill collector for a utility company in the Greek capital after turning down offers to become a professional. Because he wanted to keep his amateur standing "so that I may represent Greece in the next Olympic games," he did not disclose the nature of the offers.

On the same plane with Kyriakides was Nick Londe, Detroit boxing promoter, who is making his first trip to his native Greece in 26 years.

After visiting his mother, six brothers and a sister in Patras, Londe said he expected to go to Paris and London to see several French and British boxers and discuss the possibilities of matching them for fights in the United States.

Books Show 1,165 Entries In U. S. A. Open Golf Tourney

New York, May 21 (AP)—Entries for the U. S. Open, first national postwar golf tournament, reached 1,165 as the books were snapped shut late today. The meet will be played on the Canterbury course in Cleveland, June 13 to 15, with qualifying rounds carded at 26 different sites on June 3.

Forty-one players have been exempted, leaving 129 berths in the Cleveland competition to be decided in the preliminary rounds.

Joe Dey, executive secretary of the U.S.G.A., said that pairings and allocations of the qualifying rounds would be announced later, probably next week.

The entry for the open, not held since 1941 when Graig Wood of Mamaronock, N. Y., triumphed at Fort Worth, Tex., is the sixth largest since the event started in 1895 with 11 competitors. Largest entry list was that of 1936 when 1,277 sought to win the crown.

One of the latest entries received was that of Marvin H. (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., duration amateur champion who was discharged from the service during the winter.

The qualifying field at New York includes Jimmy Demaree of Texas, here for the Goodall tourney; George Schneider of Utah; Ellsworth Vines, former National Tennis champion and golf pro in Denver; Bob Hamilton, 1944 PGA titleholder; Dick Chapman, 1940 amateur king and five of the seven golfing Turners brothers.

Joe Kirkwood, Sr., Cary Midgloff, one of the better amateurs and Ed (Porky) Oliver are in the Philadelphia preliminary while Jimmy Thomson, long driving pro, and Phil Perkins will try to make the grade at Cleveland.

ROPES IN AWOL SEAL—A rope in the hands of Fort Worth, Texas, zoo director Hamilton Hittson brought to an end the vacation jaunt of a seal frolicking in the Trinity River. ## Bobo Newsom Rolls On As Star Of Athletics

BY HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Sports Editor
New York (NEA)—No top flight pitcher has seen as much of the country as Louis Norman Newsom.

Bobo Newsom has changed uniforms 19 times in 20 years, has been with 19 different clubs. He did three stretches each with the Browns and Senators.

Newsom has a been fired for more reasons than could be listed here—three years ago to end an open player rebellion against Leo Durocher in Brooklyn.

Yet here is Newsom at 36 pitching as well for the Athletics as he did when he hurled the Tigers to the American League flag in 1940 with 21 victories against only five defeats and won two games in the World Series.

"It's about time I had another good year," he explains, which accounts for his early arrival at West Palm Beach this spring. He pitched a full share in exhibition games and ran his legs into shape, got down to under 200 pounds.

Fast Ball Breaks Upward

This enables Newsom to make his sidarm fast one break upward to right-handed hitters. It's virtually impossible for a hitter to get hold of this pitch, which accounts for the swaggering South Carolinian yielding the Yankees and Red Sox just six hits in his first 14 innings this season. The only run scored off the Hartsville Hot Spot came on a home run when catcher Aaron Robertson of the New Yorks worked the count to 3 and 1 and had to be given something good.

Newsom has a variety of deliveries which prohibit the batter from timing a pitch. He also throws overhand and underhand, employs a knuckle ball bloopier as a change of pace.

In addition to being an expert on time tables, Newsom qualifies as an indestructible man. His left leg has been broken three times, twice within two weeks in the winter of 1931-32.

Newsom was purchased from Little Rock by the Cubs that fall, was enroute to Chicago for an interview with Philip K. Wrigley when the automobile he was driving turned over 20 times rolling down a 225-foot embankment in the Smoky Mountains.

Don't Laugh at Old Bobo

On crutches after eight weeks, Newsom accompanied his uncle and little cousin to a mule sale in Columbia, S. C. The last mule being sold broke and ran toward the child. In pulling the youngster out of danger, Newsom was run down by the mule. This time two bones were broken in his leg.

Pitching for Washington against Cleveland in 1935, Newsom had the kneecap of the same leg broken by a drive off Earl Averill's bat.

Because Averill, Sammy Hale and some of the other Indians laughed, Newsom pitched five and two-thirds innings with the broken knee cap. He made two hits after suffering the injury, but lost, 4-3, when Heinie Manush dropped a fly hit by Frankie Pytlak in the ninth.

They laughed at Newsom last season when, with a bad club, he was the losing pitcher in the league with 20. Newsom should have won nine or 10 of these. He was beaten that often by one run.

A few breaks would have meant the difference between a miserable and a fine season, for he accounted for eight victories.

Newsom is back this trip with a considerably improved club, and no one is laughing at him.

It doesn't pay to laugh at Newsom. That puts old Bobo Newsom's mind on his work, and he can still pitch as well as he wants to.

Dickers Begun With Lewis On Wage Increase

day that the decision rested with the policy committee.

Krug appointed Vice Admiral Ben Moreell, who was federal administrator of the oil industry when it was seized last year, to be in direct charge of the mines.

The interior secretary also appealed to the miners to stay at work, declaring the 42-day strike "disastrously retarded reconversion" and that a resumption of the walkout would deal the United States a "staggering blow" from which it might take years to recover.

The operators, who already had assured the president by letter of their cooperation in government operation of the mines, had no comment on the actual seizure order. The letter said the operators understood that they would be consulted on the terms of any contract eventually worked out, as they were in 1943, when former Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes negotiated a contract after government seizure.

Understanding Reached?

In New York, a coal operators' representative expressed belief that the seizure order indicated an understanding had been reached for future settlement of the current issues, which include demands for a health and welfare fund financed by employers through a 7 per cent payroll levy, and administered by the union.

This spokesman, who declined to permit use of his name, said a three-party governing body (presumably representing the public, the union and the operators) was likely to be created to administer the fund. He thought the percentage of payrolls allotted to the fund might be between 1½ and 3½ per cent, which he estimated would be from $17,000,000 to $35,000,000 a year.

As for wage increases, this spokesman said the government was expected to hold close to its general formula of 15½ cents an hour, "or a little more."

President Truman's order said he was acting "to preserve the national economic structure in the present emergency."

Krug was directed to operate the mines "in accordance with such terms and conditions of employment as are in effect" at the time possession is taken. He was authorized to apply to the National Wage Stabilization Board "for appropriate changes in the terms and conditions of employment for the period of operation of the mines by the government."

PETOSKEY HIRES MARTINEAU

Petoskey, May 21 (AP)—Earl Martineau, backfield coach at the University of Michigan for several years, has been hired by the city to direct Petoskey's summer recreation program this year.

Mayor John H. Perry announced today. Martineau has a summer home at nearby Walloon lake.

Try a teaspoon of dried marjoram in lamb stew. It gives an added flavor to an economical and nutritious dish.

To have tender fried eggs, have the skillet hot when you put the eggs in, but cook them over a low heat.

Composition rubber soles should be waxed before wearing to prevent their leaving prints on clean floors.</

ALL VETERANS PARADE SUNDAY

VFW Requests All War Vets To Appear In Uniform

Delta county veterans of both wars are being asked to turn out in full uniform Sunday morning to form the nucleus of the V.F.W. convention parade, according to post commander E. J. Kallio.

"We are asking all veterans of both wars, men and women alike, regardless of their affiliation with any veteran's organization, to take part in our parade," Kallio said yesterday. He explained that the parade will form near the Junior high school at 10:30 a. m. "This is the first time that all veterans of World War Two have had an opportunity to gather in a parade," Kallio pointed out. "We are urging them to cooperate in this matter and make the parade a success."

Heading the parade will be state officers of the organization. It is expected that the city band will also take part. The parade is scheduled to start down Ludington street at noon. The convention banquet will take place immediately after the parade in St. Joseph's church.

At least 100 new members will be initiated into the V.F.W. at 2 p. m. Sunday afternoon in a ceremony conducted by the Saint Ste. Marie post.

The convention this week embraces all northern Michigan V.F.W. posts.

Veterans may receive advice or information this week end from Ira G. Hart, V.F.W. field service representative, who will be at Blue Roof Cabin number 2 on Saturday and Sunday.

Clubs For Aged Formed In Britain

London, (AP)—The rise in the number of old people in Britain—3,349,222 men over 64 and women over 50 in 1929, with 5,571,000 predicted in 1951—has resulted in "Darby and Joan" clubs for old people run by the Women's Voluntary Services.

Clubs and hostels for old people are being encouraged, and the WVS has offered to run them to give the old people more independence and relieve young people of extra burdens when they start married life.

Rev. George Laforest To Be Honored At Jubilee

St. Ann church will be the scene of an impressive ceremony on Tuesday, June 4, when the pastor, the Very Rev. Fr. George Laforest, observes the 40th anniversary of his ordination as a priest. He was ordained in June, 1906.

The solemn high mass will be sung at 10:30 a. m., E.S.T., in the presence of His Excellency, the Most Reverend Joseph Wagner, D.D., Ph.D., LL.D., Bishop of Marquette. The sermon will be given by the Right Reverend Monsignor Joseph Leo Zryd, D.C.L., vicar general and chancellor of the diocese. At the throne with Bishop Wagner will be the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Matthias Jodocy of Marquette as assistant priest; the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Joseph P. Dittman of Neenah as deacon of honor; the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Jeremiah B. Moriarty of Ironwood as subdeacon of honor; and the Rev. Fr. Oliver O'Callahan of Marquette as master of ceremonies.

At the altar with the jubilarian will be the Rev. Fr. Victor A. Karch of Menominee as deacon; the Very Rev. Joseph E. Guertin of Sault Ste. Marie as subdeacon; and the Rev. Emil Beyer of Marquette as master of ceremonies.

The mass will be the Votive Mass of the Holy Ghost, with a commemoration in thanksgiving for favors received during 40 years of priesthood.

The proper of the mass will be sung by the priests' choir, under the direction of the Rev. Matthias Laviolette of Flat Rock. The Rev. Fr. Wilfred Pelletier of Garden will be at the console.

The common of the mass will be sung by a massed choir of the pupils of St. Ann junior high school, under the direction of the Venerable Sister Rose Francis, who will also preside at the organ. Paul Tonner's mass "Immaculate," will be sung, and the "Laetamini in Domino" will be sung after the proper of the offertory. The "Ecce Sacerdos" will precede the mass.

Solemn benediction will follow the mass, after which the jubilarian will intone the "Te Deum," hymn of thanksgiving, to be sung by the priests' choir.

Many to Attend
All the priests of the diocese of Marquette have been invited to attend, as well as a few friends of the jubilarian from the diocese of Green Bay, Saginaw and Grand Rapids. Dinner will be served to the visiting clergy at the parish hall at 12:30 by the ladies of St. Ann Altar Society, St. Ann Social Club, and St. Ann Home and School association.

Rev. F. O'Neill D'Amour, senior curate, is the general chairman of the jubilee committee. He is assisted by Alex. St. Cyr, Edward Kremer, Robert DeGrand, and Walter Richer. The Rev. Fr. Lester Bourgeois of Nadeau will be the toastmaster for the after-dinner program.

A general invitation is extended to the public to attend the processional and the mass at 10:30. The Venerable Sisters of all the local communities have also been invited to attend. The altar boys of St. Ann school will attend in a body.

Association Pays Tribute To Late George N. Harder

The Northern Hemlock and Hardwood Manufacturers association, of which the late George N. Harder of Escanaba was past president, paid tribute to his memory in a communication to association members "in recognition of his long period of splendid service."

Mr. Harder was a director of the association from 1918 until 1944, and served as association president in 1918 and 1919. He was active as a member of the market promotion committee of the association.

From 1934 to 1936 he was president of the National Hardwood Lumber association, and was for many years a member of the board of directors of that organization, and of their executive committee. In 1936 he was made an honorary life member of the board of managers.

"He continued his active interest in the organization and only two days before his death he wrote this office expressing his gratification in the success and progress of the organization," the association reported.

"His broad experience and wise counsel were an asset of great value which cannot be replaced. His multitude of friends among the members will mourn his passing. His warm-hearted fellowship, his unshakable integrity, his unusually sound business judgment and other high traits of character endeared him to a host of friends. His broad vision and unselfish interest in the welfare of the lumber industry prompted him to sponsor and support every progressive movement. "The word 'good' in its broad significance seems to fit like a glove the character and usefulness of George Harder's life. He was a good man, a good husband and father, a good business man, a good lumberman, a good American citizen and a good example of a Christian gentleman."
